

2025 CALIFORNIA OCEAN & COAST REPORT CARD

ECOSYSTEMS

Aspects of ecosystem health tell us how the system is doing, where we need to take action, and whether management is effective.

Fish		1 sentence description
Birds		1 sentence description
Kelp		1 sentence description
Mammals		1 sentence description
Beaches		1 sentence description

COMMUNITIES

How people are using the ocean as a resource, ecosystem functions, and relevant equity considerations.

Fisheries		1 sentence description. 1 sentence equity consideration.
Coastal Access		1 sentence description. 1 sentence equity consideration.
Sea Level Rise Planning		1 sentence description. 1 sentence equity consideration.

2025 CALIFORNIA OCEAN & COAST REPORT CARD

STRESSORS Stressors help us understand what is driving change in the system and where we can intervene.

Coastal Flooding		1 sentence description
Warming		1 sentence description
Acidification		1 sentence description
Harmful Algal Blooms		1 sentence description
Beach Water Quality		1 sentence description

HOW TO READ THIS REPORT CARD

The color of each symbol indicates 2024 Status, which compares current conditions to the past 40 years. This information was assessed through distinct methods based on the indicator itself. To learn more about the science behind a specific indicator, please contact NAME at EMAIL.

2024 STATUS

-  Meeting Expectations
-  Below Expectations
-  Far Below Expectations

This report is part of the California Coast and Ocean Report Card, developed through a partnership between the Ocean Protection Council, the Ocean Science Trust, and the West Coast Ocean Alliance.

Learn more at URL